

Write down a description of your life as you would like it to be in five years imagining the best things that could happen to you.